The Recognised LONDON DEPOT for

IRISH PEASANT-MADE HOMESPUNS

From Counties CORK, KERRY, GALWAY, TIPPERARY, MAYO, and DONEGAL. The distinctive characteristics of the handiwork of each locality on Exhibition, and for Sale by the yard or web, in huge variety (bulk and pattern). Prices are fixed on a level corresponding with the extent of my business, and will be found little, if any, higher than the weaver would charge on the spot, viz., from 1/9 to 3/6 per yard.

The different sorts are respectively suited for Gentlemen's Lounge, Shooting, Golfing, Cycling, Mountaineering Suits. Also for light Summer and Tropical wear. For Ladies' Gowns, Boys' Clothes, Ulsters, Capes; and, joined together, as Rugs and Wraps.

Also LONDON DEPOT for the IRISH FRIEZES

Made in the MARQUIS OF WATERFORD'S INDUSTRIAL HOUSE. By the general concensus of Country Gentlemen, these well-known Cloths are hard to beat for a rough, useful, weather-proof, hard-wearing Country Suit. For Shooting and Fishing they are particularly well adapted. Price 21/- Suit Length (7 yards).

NOTE.—Patterns on application, giving idea of requirements. Further particulars of my business can be seen on reference to "WHITAKER," page 3; "A. B. C. Naval and Military Medals.

No proof is forthcoming of medals being conferred in England for service in the army or navy before the time of Charles I., who in May, 1643, authorized a badge for such soldiers as taught "discipline" themselves in "forbearing liquor." This was of silver, and by the warrant dated 18th May, 1643, it was ordered that the "royal image and that of our dearest son, Prince Charles, should be contained thereon." On the 21st June, 1643, a gold medal was ordered for Mr Robert Walsh, who commanded a troop of horse at the battle of Edgehill on the 23rd October, 1642. The obverse to bear the royal figure and that of his son, Prince Charles. The reverse to have the royal sceptre, and at the above battle to be inscribed "Per Regale Manifestum Carol: Regis Hos: Assignavit Robertus Walsh Miles." This is the first recorded case of a medal being awarded for military service.

A gold medal was struck, which was oval in shape, to commemorate the battle of Naseby, 14th June, 1645, for officers. On one side was the effigy of Sir Thomas Fairfax, with the inscription "Dno: Fairfax Miles Mult: Parl: Dux: Gen:." The reverse had "Meruisti" within a circle, and the words "Post Hæc Memora 1645."

The medals given by Cromwell for naval and military services were the first given to officers and men. That for the battle of Dunbar, which is oval in shape and of two sizes in gold and silver, was the first given to the army at large. No grant of medals by the sovereign's command, to officers and men alike, was authorized until the medal for Waterloo was issued.

The medals given by Cromwell for naval services were: 1. Oval in gold and silver. Obverse: an anchor, the arms of England (St. George's Cross) and Ireland (Harp), suspended from the lion with a hawser surrounding, and the word "Meruisti." Reverse: a naval engagement, with the words "Service done against six ships July ye XXVI and August ye I. 1650." 2. Oval in gold. Obverse: an anchor, and three small shields suspended from the beam. Reverse: a sea fight, with the words "For eminent service in saving ye Triumpe in a fight w. y. Dutch in July 1653." 3. Oval in silver. Obverse: an anchor and two small shields with the word "Meruisti" above. Reverse: the House of Commons sitting. Cromwell's medal for the battle of Dunbar has on the obverse the head of Cromwell, with the motto "The Lord of Hosts, Septem: ye 3, 1650;" and behind the head is a prospect of the battle. The reverse has the House of Commons sitting, as represented on the great seal of Parliament of 1648, and of the Commonwealth, 1651.

A silver medal was struck to commemorate the victory near La Hogue in 1692. On the obverse are the busts of William and Mary, and the inscription "Gul: et Mar: D.G.M.B.F. et H. Rex et Regina;" and on the reverse two ships in action, with the inscription "Nox: Nulla Secuta Est:" "Pugn: Nav: Int: Ang: et Fr: 21 May 1692" being in the exergue.

Medals were struck to commemorate the victories of the great Duke of Marlborough, but it is certain they were not worn by either officers or men.

After the battle of Culloden, 16th April, 1746, a medal was struck privately. Obverse: the head of the Duke of Cumberland. Reverse: a figure of Apollo, and a dragon pierced by an arrow, with the inscription "Actum Est: Hicet Perit," and in the exergue "Prael: Colsel: Ap: XVI. MDCCXLVI." The medal was always to be worn when the recipient went into action. They were oval in gold.

Gold medals were bestowed by Pope Pius VI. on twelve officers of the 12th Lancers for service at Civita Vecchia in 1794.

A gold medal was presented by the Emperor of Germany to each of the officers (8 in number) of the two squadrons of the 15th Light Dragoons engaged at the action of Villiers-en-Couche on 24th April, 1794, by which action the Emperor was saved from being taken prisoner by the French. Only nine of these medals were struck, one being deposited in the Imperial Cabinet at Vienna. Obverse: laureated head of Francis II., Emperor of Germany, and the inscription "Imp: Caes: Franciscus II. P.F. Aug:." Reverse: "Forti-Britannorum-Exercitu: Fœd: ad: Cameracum XX. Apr: MDCCXCIV." In 1798 the King (Geo. III.) permitted these medals to be worn. Crosses of the order of Maria Theresa were subsequently granted to these officers, and permitted to be worn in uniform.

The Nile, 1798, was commemorated by a medal given by a private gentleman, Alexander Davison. Obverse: Peace standing upon a rock holding an olive branch and displaying a portrait of Lord Nelson, with the words "Europe's Hope and Britain's Glory." Behind the figure an anchor, the sea in the distance, and "Rear Admiral Lord Nelson of the Nile." Reverse: the British Fleet sailing into the Bay of Aboukir at sunrise. The words "Almighty God has blessed his Majesty's Arms," and in the exergue "Victory of the Nile, August 1, 1798." The inscription on the edge was "From Alexander Davison, Esq: St. James Square. A Tribute of Regard." This medal was of gold, silver, bronze gilt, and bronze, and is known as Davison's medal.

Mr. M. Boulton, another private individual, granted a medal for the battle of Trafalgar, 1805. Obverse: bust of Lord Nelson, with the words "Horatio Viscount Nelson, K.B., Duke of Bronte, etc." Reverse: a representation of the battle of Trafalgar, with the words "England expects every man will do his duty." In the exergue "Trafalgar Oct: 21, 1805," and on the edge was inscribed "To the Heroes of Trafalgar, from M. Boulton." (A pewter medal set in a gold rim is stated to have been issued for Trafalgar), and the Naval General Service medal was granted for service in Egypt and at Trafalgar long afterwards.

WAR MEDAL, 1793-1814.—Obverse: The head of the Queen wearing a diadem with the inscription "Victoria Regina." Reverse: Her Majesty, as the representative of the country, or people, is in the act of crowning with a laurel wreath the Duke of Wellington, in a kneeling position, as emblematic of the army. In the exergue is engraved "1793-1814" and by the side of the dais is the British lion. The inscription is "To the British Army." This medal was given on the 1st June, 1847, for the following services:—Maida, 4th July, 1806; Roleia, 17th August, 1808; Vimiera, 21st August, 1808; Sahagun, Benevente, &c., December, 1808, and January, 1809; Corunna, 16th January, 1809; Martinique, February, 1809; Talavera, 27th and 28th July, 1809; Guadaloupe, January and February, 1810; Busaco, 27th September, 1810; Barrosa, 5th March, 1811; Fuentes d'Onor, 5th May, 1811; Albuhera, 16th May, 1811; Java, August and September, 1811; Ciudad Rodrigo January, 1812; Badajos, 17th March and 16th April, 1812; Salamanca, 22nd July, 1812; Fort Detroit, America, August, 1812; Vittoria, 21st June, 1813; Pyrenees, 28th July to 2nd August, 1813; St. Sebastian, August and September, 1813; Chateauguay, America, 26th October, 1813; Nivelle, 10th November, 1813; Chrystler's Farm, America, 11th November, 1813; Nive, 9th to 13th December, 1813; Orthez, 27th February, 1814; and Toulouse, 10th April, 1814. Clasps inscribed with the names of these actions were also issued, 15 being the greatest number known to have been worn. A clasp inscribed "Egypt" was granted to those engaged in that country in 1801, and the medal to those not already in possession of it, by an order dated February 12, 1850. Ribbon: red with blue edges.

The Sultan of Turkey also granted his gold medal for service in Egypt. This medal was of three sizes. The large size for general officers, the second size for field officers, and the small size for captains and subalterns. Obverse; a crescent and star of eight points, surrounded by an ornamental border. Reverse: the Sultan's cypher, under which is the year 1801 in English. Ribbon; orange with hook and chain.

Gold medals had been given by the sovereign George III. in two sizes for generals and field officers for all the above actions, with the exception of "Maida," for which a special medal had been previously given, and Egypt. The first action was engraved on the reverse of the medal; clasps for subsequent actions were added to the original medal, but when the recipient became entitled to a fourth clasp, a gold Maltese cross was substituted for the medal, with the name of an action on each arm of the cross, to which clasps were added as gained by the recipient. The Duke of Wellington's had nine clasps. The ibbon for the gold cross and medal was red, with blue edges.

NAVAL GENERAL SERVICE MEDAL, 1793-1840.—This was issued to the navy at the same time as the general war medal was issued to the army, viz., in 1847. Obverse: the head of Her Majesty wearing a diadem, with the words 'Victoria Regina." Reverse: Britannia seated on a sea-horse, holding a trident in her right hand and an olive branch in her left. Ribbon: white, with blue edges. Over 200 clasps were issued with this medal, but six is the greatest number known to have been worn with one medal. Amongst the principal naval engagements for which this medal was issued were:—Battle of Camperdown, battle of the Nile, defence of Acre, services in Egypt, battle of Copenhagen, battle of Trafalgar, taking of Curaçoa, action off Gottenburgh, taking of Cayenne, capture of Martinique, capture of Guadaloupe, capture of Java, capture of frigate Chesapeake, battle of Algiers, battle of Navarino, &c. capture of Acre, &c.

SERINGAPATAM, 1799.—Medals granted by the Government of India—Gold for the King, the Governor-General, the Marquis Cornwallis, the Nizam, and various Rajahs of native states, the Commander-in-chief and general officers. Silver gilt for the members of the council for the three presidencies, the Residents of Hyderabad and Poona, field officers and officers on the staff. Silver for captains and subalterns. Copper bronzed for non-commissioned officers, and pure grain tin for the privates. Allowed to be worn in addition to the Indian War Medal. Ribbon: deep yellow, about an inch in width. No clasp was issued. Obverse: representation of the storming of the breach of Seringapatam, from an actual drawing on the spot, with the meridian sun, denoting the time of the storm, and the inscription in Persian "The Fort of Seringapatam, the gift of God, the 4. May, 1799." Reverse: the British Lion subduing the Tiger, and the words in Arabic on the banner above, "Assud-Otta-ul-Ghaulib."

EAST INDIA COMPANY had also given medals for the Deccan, 1784; Mysore, 1791-92; Ceylon, 1795-1796; Seringapatam, 1799; Egypt, 1801-2; Rodrigues Bourbon and Isle of France, 1809; Java, 1811; Nepaul, 1814-16; Burmah, 1824-26.

INDIAN WARS, 1799-1826.—Medal granted by the Government of India—Obverse: Queen's head with the inscription "Victoria Regina." Reverse: the figure of Victory, seated, in her left hand a laurel wreath—an olive branch in her right—a lotus flower, emblematic of India, at her side; a trophy of Oriental arms and a palm tree form the background. The inscription is "To the Army of India." In the exergue "1799-1826." This medal was given, by permission of the Queen, by the East India Company, at the same time as the issue of the old war medal, to the survivors of the wars of 1799-1826. Clasps were granted for the services, specified below. Ribbon: pale blue. Services for which the medal was granted were:—Storm of Allighur, 4th Sept., 1803; battle of Delhi, 11th Sept., 1803; battle of Assaye, 23rd Sept., 1803; siege of Asseer Ghur, 21st Oct., 1803; battle of Lasswarree, 1st Nov., 1803; battle of Argaum, 29th Nov., 1803; siege and storm of Gawilghur, 15th Dec., 1803; defence of Delhi, Oct., 1804; battle of Deig, 13th Nov., 1804; war in Nepaul in 1816; battle of Kirkee and capture of Poona, Nov., 1817; battle of Seetabuldee and battle and capture of Nagpore, Nov. and Dec., 1817; battle of Maheidpore, 21st Dec., 1817; defence of Corygaum, 1st Jan., 1818; war in Ava, 1824 to 1826, and siege and storm of Bhurtpore, Jan., 1826. Only five of these clasps are known to be worn with one medal. The medal was also granted to the navy for service in Burmah, 1824-26. (See BURMAH, 1824-26).

BAGUR AND PALAMOS, 1810.—Given by the Spanish. Obverse: the arms of Great Britain and Spain, within a wreath of laurel in two shields, crowned, the national flags, and the in-paigns between 1834 and 1853. No medal or clasp was granted for the capture of the Cape of Good Hope in 1801.—Ribbon: orange, with purple stripes.

BURMAH, 1852-53. — Medal — Granted by Government of India—now known as the India General Service Medal. Obverse: Queen's head, with the inscription "Victoria Regina." Reverse: a representation of Victory crowning an ancient warrior, and in the exergue a lotus, emblematic of India.—Clasp inscribed "Pegu" also granted.—Ribbon: scarlet, with two dark blue stripes.

CRIMEA, 1854-56. — Medal — Obverse: The effigy of Her Majesty, with the inscription "Victoria Regina, 1854." Reverse: the figure of Fame about to place a wreath upon the brows of a stalwart Hero in classic military costume, with the word "Crimea" near the rim.—Clasps inscribed "Alma," "Balaclava," "Inkerman," "Sebastopol," and "Azoff," (to the navy only) were issued with this medal.—Ribbon: pale blue, with yellow edges.

FRENCH MILITARY WAR MEDAL.—Medal—Obverse: the head of the Emperor, with the words "Louis Napoleon" in gilt letters, on a blue enamelled circle, within a wreath of laurel in silver. Reverse: The words "Valeur-et-Discipline," on a gold ground, within a circle of blue enamel, and a wreath of silver laurel. The imperial Eagle surmounts the medal.—Ribbon: orange, with broad green edges. Two hundred and twenty-six of these medals were granted to N. C. officers and men of the British Army. The Duke of Cambridge and Sir W. Codrington also received this medal.

SARDINIAN WAR MEDAL.—Medal—Obverse: The Arms (White Cross of Savoy) and Crown of Sardinia, with a branch of laurel and of palm, with the inscription "Al Valore Militaire." Reverse: Two laurel branches, with the words "Spedizione d'Oriente."—Ribbon: a watered blue. Four hundred of these medals were granted to the British army and navy.

TURKISH WAR MEDAL.—Medal—Obverse: the flags of France, Turkey, England, and Sardinia, beneath a map of the Crimea spread over a gun-wheel, which rests upon the Russian flag. Cannon, mortars, &c., are arranged about. The word "Crimea" and the date "1855" are under all. Reverse: The Sultan's Cypher, beneath which is inscribed with the word "Crimea" in Turkish, and lower still is the year of the Hegira "1271," corresponding with the year 1855. This medal was granted to all the troops engaged in the Crimea against the Russians.—Ribbon is narrow, of a pink colour, with light green edges. The Silistria, 1854, the Danube, 1854, and the Kars, 1855, medals were also granted to several officers and men of the British army.

BALTIC, 1854-55.—Medal—Obverse: Queen's head, with the inscription "Victoria Regina." Reverse: Britannia seated, with uplifted trident. She appears to be on the "look out"; above is the word "Baltic," and in the exergue, "1854-1855."—Ribbon: yellow, with blue edges.

PERSIA, 1856-57.—Medal—Same as Burmah, 1852-53.—Ribbon also the same pattern. Clasp inscribed "Persia" issued with the medal—clasp only issued to those already in possession of Burmah medal.

INDIAN MUTINY, 1857-58. — Medal — Obverse: Queen's head, with the inscription "Victoria Regina." Reverse: Britannia is represented in an erect position, instead of being seated, and above is the word "India." In her right hand, outstretched, is a laurel wreath, the usual shield, with the Union, is on the left arm, and in the hand are other wreaths. The British Lion forms an appropriate background. Clasps inscribed "Delhi," "Defence of Lucknow," "Relief of Lucknow," "Lucknow," and "Central India," were issued with this medal. Ribbon: white, with red stripes.

CHINA, 1856-60.—Medal—Similar in pattern to the first China medal, with the exception that the date, "1842," on the reverse is omitted. Clasps inscribed "China 1842" (this clasp issued only to those in possession of first medal). "Fatshan 1857," "Canton 1857," "Taku Forts 1858," "Taku Forts 1860," and "Pekin 1860," were issued with the medal.—Ribbon: same as for China, 1842.

NEW ZEALAND, 1845-47, 1860-66.—Medal—Obverse: Queen's head, with the words "Victoria Regina G.D. Britt: Reg: F.D." Reverse: a wreath in the centre, within which is engraved the years during which the recipient served during the war, the words "New Zealand" being above, and "Virtutis Honor" underneath. No clasp issued.—Ribbon: blue, with a scarlet stripe in the centre. The medal for the earlier campaign of 1845-47 was only granted to survivors when it had been determined to issue a medal for the later campaign.

ABYSSINIA, 1867-68. — Medal — Surmounted by a crown, suspended from a ring. Obverse: Queen's head in the centre of a star, round the outside of which, and between the points, is the word "Abyssinia." Reverse: a wreath, within which is engraved the recipient's rank, name, corps, or ship. No clasp issued.—Ribbon: white, with broad red edges. This is the smallest medal issued during the reign of Her Majesty.

NORTH-WEST FRONTIER OF INDIA, 1849-1863.—Medal—Similar in pattern to the Burmah 1853 medal.—Ribbon: also similar. Granted to survivors only at date of order in 1869, for the following services:—

Expeditions.—To Eusufzye, 30th November, 1849. To Kohat Pass, 9th February, 1850. Against the Ootman Kheyland Ranezai tribes, 11th May, 1852. To Punypor, Ishakoti, and Deerjai, 18th May, 1852. Against the Hussanzaies, December, 1852, to January, 1853; the Kusranees and the Sheeranees, March, 1853; and the Boree Afridees, 29th November, 1853. To Shah Mooseh Kheyl, 31st August, 1854. Against the Aka Kheyl and Bussee Kheyl tribes, 27th March, 1855; and Meeranzaie, 4th April, 1855. To the Bozdar Hills, 6th March, 1857. Against the Cabool Kheyl Wuzzeerees, 15th December, 1859, and the Mahsood Wuzzeerees, 14th April, 1860, and to Eusufzye, 18th October, 1863. [This medal was subsequently granted for the following services:—Expedition against the Mohmunds, 1863-64; Bhootan, 1864-65-66, and Hazara (1868) campaigns. Expeditions to Looshai, 1868, and the Naga Hills, 1879-80; also "Burmah 1885-87," "Perak, 1875-6," and "Jowaki 1877-8." Clasps inscribed "North-West Frontier,' "Umbeyla," "Bhootan," "Looshai," "Naga, 1879-80," "Sikkim, 1888," "Hazara 1888," "Chin Lushai, 1889-90," Samana, 1891

Digitized by Google

"Hazara, 1891," "N.E. Frontier, 1891," "Hunza, 1891," "Lushai, 1889-92," "Waziristan, 1894-5" were granted with the medal. Clasps only were issued to those already possessed of the medal for previous services.

CANADA 1870. With clasps inscribed "Fenian Raid, 1866," "Fenian Raid, 1870," and "Red River 1870."—Ribbon: red, with white stripe in centre.

ASHANTI 1873-74. Medal. Obverse: Queen's head, with the inscription "Victoria Regina." Reverse: a British soldier standing over his wounded comrade in the act of defending him as he lies on the ground from an attack of the enemy. Clasps inscribed "Coomassie." To those present at "Amoafo" and the actions between that place and Coomassie and who served north of the Prah during the five days of these actions. Ribbon: yellow, with black stripes.

ARCTIC, 1875-76. Medal. Bust of Her Majesty crowned and veiled. Reverse: a ship in winter quarters. This medal is circular. Ribbon: white.

SOUTH AFRICA, 1877-78-79. Medal. Similar in pattern to the Cape medal with the exception that crossed assegais and a shield are in the exergue instead of the date 1853. Ribbon also the same. Clasps inscribed "1877," "1877-78," "1877-78-79," "1878," "1878-79," and "1879" were also granted, but only one clasp could be worn. Those in possession of the Cape medal only received the clasp. The medal was issued to those employed against the Gaikas, Galekas and other Kaffir tribes from 26th September, 1877 to 28th June, 1878; Pikwani from 21st to 28th January, 1878; the Griquas from 24th April to 13th November, 1878; Sekhukuni in 1878; the Zulus from 22nd January to 1st September, 1879; Sekukuni from 13th September to 2nd December, 1879; and Moirosi's stronghold.

AFGHANISTAN, 1878-79-80.—Medal. Obverse: Queen's head, with the Imperial crown and the inscription, "Victoria Regina et Imperatrix." Reverse: representation of an army proceeding through one of the passes in Afghanistan, with the word "Afghanistan" above, and the years "1878-79-80" in the exergue. Clasps inscribed "Ali Musjid," "Peiwar Kotal," "Charasia," "Kabul," "Ahmed Khel," and "Kandahar" were also granted, the greatest number worn with the medal being four. Ribbon: green, with red edges.

BRONZE STAR. Five-pointed suspended from an Imperial crown, with the imperial monogram in the centre, around which are the words "Kabul to Kandahar," with the date "1880" underneath. Reverse: engraved with the rank, name, and corps of recipient. Ribbon, rainbow pattern.

EGYPT, 1882. Medal. Obverse: Queen's head, with the inscription, "Victoria Regina et Imperatrix." Reverse: representation of a sphinx, with the word "Egypt" above, and the date "1882" underneath. Clasp, inscribed "Tel-el-Kebir," also granted to those present at the action, and those who took part in the march from Kassassin, on the morning of the 13th September, 1882. A clasp inscribed "Alexandria, 11th July," was granted to the navy. Only one army officer, Colonel A. B. Tulloch, C.B., Welsh Regiment, who was present at the bombardment as Chief of the Intelligence Department, received this clasp.—Ribbon: blue, with two white stripes.

BRONZE STAR. Five-pointed; granted by H.H. the Khedive. Obverse: sphinx in the centre, with a representation of the Pyramids in the background, "Egypt, 1882," being above, and the year of the Hegira, with Arabic characters, below. Reverse: a crown, with the Khedive's monogram underneath. Ribbon: blue.

SUAKIN, 1884. Medal. Similar in pattern to that for Egypt, 1882 except that the date "1882" on the reverse is omitted. Ribbon also same. Clasps inscribed "Suakin, 1884," "El-Teb," "Tamai" and "El-Teb-Tamai," also issued. Clasps only issued to those in possession of the Egypt medal. The last-named clasp was given to those present at both actions.

BRONZE STAR. This was also issued, and is similar in pattern to that for Egypt, 1882, and was extended to the operations of 1886.

THE NILE, 1884-86 and SUAKIN. Medal.—Similar to that granted for Suakin, 1884, and the ribbon is also the same. Clasps inscribed "The Nile, 1884-85," "Abu Klea," "Kirbekan," "Suakin, 1885," "Tofrek," "Gemaizah, 1888," and "Toski, 1889," also granted. Clasps only granted to those in possession of the Egypt, 1882, or Suakin, 1884, medal.

This medal was also granted for services on the Upper Nile in 1885-86, under General Sir F. Stephenson, but the grant was only extended to those not already in possession of the medal for previous operations, and no clasp was issued for the brilliant and decisive victory won by General Stephenson and his command.

CANADA, 1885. Medal. Obverse: Queen's head, with the inscription, "Victoria Regina et Imperatrix." Reverse: the year "1885," with the words "North West" above and "Canada" below, within a wreath. A clasp for Saskatchewan was issued with this medal. Ribbon: blue, with red edges.

A medal was not granted for the Canadian Rebellion of 1837-38.

BURMAH, 1885-87. Medal. Pattern known as the India medal. To those already in possession of this medal a clasp only was granted.

WEST AFRICA, 1892. Medal. Same pattern as that issued for Ashanti, 1874. For operations against the Yonnie tribes, 1887-88, up the Gambia, 1891-92, Tambi, 1892, Tomatasso, 1892, Zebu, 1892, Sofa, 1893-94, and again on the Gambia River, 1894. A clasp indicates the year for which the medal was awarded.

The following clasps have been given to Navy:—"Witu, 1890," "Limondi, 1893," "Witu, 1893," "Juba River, 1893," "Lake Nyassa, 1893," "Gambia, 1894," "Benin River, 1894," "Brass River, 1895," "M'wele, 1895, (to those who had the medal, but stamped on rim of General Africa medal to others)," "Benin, 1897," "Dawkita, 1897," "Niger, 1897," and "Sierra Leone, 1898-9."—Ribbon: yellow, with black stripes.

EAST and CENTRAL AFRICA, 1891-94.—Medal. Same pattern as Ashanti, 1874, but without clasps and with distinctive ribbon. There were altogether 10 operations in the period.—Ribbon: chocolate, white and black stripes. This medal was also awarded for Unyoro Expedition, 1895.

SOUTH AFRICA, 1893 and 1896.—Medal given by the British So. Africa Co. for Operations in Matabeleland and Mashonaland. Obverse: Queen's head with "Victoria Regina." Reverse: British lion rising in wrath, having been pierced by an assegai, trampling on native weapons. Above "Matabeleland," below "British South Africa Company." The same medal was allowed for operations in Matabeleland and Mashonaland (known as Southern Rhodesia) between 24th March and 31st Dec., 1896. "Rhodesia, 1896," was engraved on the reverse; but a clasp only given to those already in possession of the 1893 medal—Ribbon: watered orange silk, with three dark blue stripes.

INDIA MEDAL, 1895.—Medal—Obverse: Queen's head. Reverse: representation of a Sikh soldier, his left hand resting on his sword, his right extended and grasping, conjointly with a European soldier, the staff of the British Flag. The right hand of the latter leans upon a rifle bearing the inscription, "India, 1895."—Ribbon: three red and two green stripes. Clasps: "Defence of Chitral, 1895," "Relief of Chitral, 1895."

In June, 1898, clasps for the Frontier War were sanctioned as under: "Punjab Frontier, 1897-8," "Malakand, 1897," "Samana, 1897," "Tirah, 1897-8."

ASHANTI, 1895-96.—Gun-metal star with eight points, four of which are square; in the centre an imperial crown with the inscription, "Ashanti, 1896." The reverse bears the inscription, "From the Queen."—Ribbon yellow with two black stripes.

KHARTOUM.—Medal—Given by Khedive, 8 clasps. "Firket," "Halfa," "Dongola," "Soudan, 1897," "Athara," "Khartoum," "Abu Hamed," "Gedaref."—Ribbon: yellow, blue stripe in centre; representing the Nile and desert.

BRITISH MEDAL.—Ribbon: black and yellow, divided by thin red stripe.

FOR LONG SERVICE AND GOOD CONDUCT (Army).—Medal—Instituted by King William IV. in 1830. Obverse: a Military Trophy and the Arms of the United Kingdom. Reverse: the inscription, "For Long Service and Good Conduct." Gratuities of £15 to a Sergeant, £10 to a Corporal, and £5 to a Private were granted with this medal. In 1860 medals without gratuities were first issued; but in 1875 these were abolished, £5 gratuity being granted in all cases (except schoolmasters) with the medal. The qualifying service is 18 years, and the terms of eligibility are irreproachable character; to be possessed of, or entitled to, at least four good-conduct badges, and not more than 12 entries in the Defaulters' Book. Boy service is allowed to count, but service in the Army Reserve is not.—Ribbon: crimson.

FOR LONG SERVICE AND GOOD CONDUCT (Navy).—Medal—Instituted by King William IV. in 1831. Obverse: diademed head of the Queen. Reverse: a line-of-battle ship, with the inscription, "For Long Service and Good Conduct."—Ribbon: blue, with white edges.

FOR MERITORIOUS SERVICE, 1845.—Medal—For Sergeants only. Obverse: Queen's head. Reverse: "For Meritorious Service." Annuities not exceeding £20 are granted with this medal. Sergeants should be recommended for this medal at the same time that they are recommended for the Good Conduct medal. Any gratuity which may have been granted with the latter medal is not now required to be relinquished on a sergeant becoming an annuitant, but the medal cannot be held with that for Meritorious Service.

FOR DISTINGUISHED CONDUCT IN THE FIELD (1854).—Medal—Obverse: a trophy, with Royal Arms in the centre. Reverse: "For Distinguished Conduct in the Field." This medal is granted with and without gratuity.—Ribbon: crimson, with a broad blue stripe in the centre. 6*d.* a day additional pension is awarded to Europeans, and 3*d.* to Blacks who are in possession of this medal. A clasp is granted for a subsequent act of distinguished conduct, inscribed with the date of the act. One has been issued, dated "1st September, 1880," the date of the battle of Kandahar, and Capt. Thomas Healy, of the Cameronians, has so far distinguished himself as to obtain two clasps to this medal. This medal is presented to the recipient by Her Majesty should he be serving at home.

CONSPICUOUS GALLANTRY (Navy), 1855.—Medal—Obverse: Queen's head, with the inscription, "Victoria Regina." Reverse: the words, "For Conspicuous Gallantry" within a laurel wreath, and a crown above.—Ribbon: blue, with white stripe in centre.

VICTORIA CROSS, 1856.—By Royal Warrant dated 5th February, 1856, this distinction was instituted. The value of this decoration is enhanced by the fact that the Queen confers it personally on the recipient, should he be serving at home. It consists of a Maltese Cross in bronze, attached by the letter V to a bar, on which a sprig of laurel is embossed. The Royal Crest is in the centre, and beneath is an escroll bearing the inscription, "For Valour." Reverse: plain, the rank, name, corps, or ship is engraved on the bar to which the ribbon is attached, and the date of the act of bravery in the centre of the cross.—Ribbon: red for the Army and dark-blue for the Navy. An annuity of £10 is granted with this decoration to each recipient, unless he be a commissioned officer. After a recipient has left the service the authorities may recommend the increase of the annuity to £50 per annum. Additional clasps are granted for subsequent acts of bravery, which carry an additional £5 annuity.

BEST SHOT OF THE ARMY.—Medal: worn on the right breast. Originated in 1869, and abolished in 1883. A gratuity of £20 accompanied the grant of this medal. Only 16 of these decorations were issued, two being granted for each of the years 1875-76 and 1876-77—one each to the best shot with the Martini-Henry and Snider rifles respectively.

Obverse: Queen's head, with the inscription, "Victoria Regina." Reverse: a nude archer with bow, arrows, and target, pierced in the centre by three arrows, the result of his skill in shooting, his left foot resting on a dais, on which is the figure of Fame in the act of placing a laurel wreath upon his head.—Ribbon: red, with narrow black and white stripes.

MEDALS OF DECEASED SOLDIERS.—These are issued to their next-of-kin on application being made to the Adjutant-General to the Forces, to whom they are directed to be forwarded immediately the soldier becomes non-effective by death. It must, however, be understood that such medals are memorials of the dead, and on no account are they to be worn by the relatives of a deceased soldier.

EDWARD STANFORD'S
MILITARY & NAVAL BOOKS.

LETTERS ON ARTILLERY. By Prince KRAFT ZU HOHENLOHE INGELFINGEN. Translated by Major N. L. WALFORD, R.A. With 6 Folding Maps. Second Edition. Crown 8vo., cloth. 7s. 6d.

By the same Author and Translator, uniform in size and binding.

LETTERS ON INFANTRY. Second Edition. 6s.

LETTERS ON CAVALRY. Second Edition. With 3 Folding Maps. 6s.

"Major Walford has done a distinct service not only to artillery officers, but to officers of the other arms. . . . Written by a man who possesses a full theoretical acquaintance with the subjects he treats, and—what is of paramount importance—has had an abundant practical experience of putting the theory to the stringent test of actual practice on European battlefields, these letters should have a deep interest for all who seek to study the military art in its highest and most recent developments."—Scotsman

GUIDE TO PROMOTION: An Aid to Officers of all Arms in preparing for Examination in Regimental Duties. Part I. Ranks of Lieutenant, Captain and Major. By Lieut.-Colonel SISSON C. PRATT (late R.A.), Author of "Military Law: its Procedure and Practice," etc. Third and Revised Edition. Crown 8vo., boards. 7s.

"A new Guide to Promotion on the lines of that which under Col. Bannatyne's editorship held its own for years against all rivals. It was a happy idea to base this guide on so excellent a model, and it is pretty certain to meet with success."—Army and Navy Gazette.

By the same Author, uniform in size and price.

GUIDE TO PROMOTION. Part II. Rank of Major. Contains the subjects in Section A required to qualify for the rank of Major, in addition to those in Part I.
